CHURCH
("Eck Kirche")

Preface

In the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one, St. Daniel's Church celebrated their Two Hundredth Anniversary. There are some people who have never heard or knew the history of St. Daniel's. This Anniversary gives us the opportunity to tell the history of the church.

This information was assembled in a period of four months. Without the help of George Schmehl, Mrs. John Brown, our present pastor, Rev. E. L. Leisey, and the Records of St. Daniel's Church that were written by Michael Gruber, this work could never have been accomplished.

Due to the fact that a considerable portion of our records were destroyed in a fire there may be discrepancies in this volume due to insufficient data.

There never has been a picture of the first St. Daniel's Church drawn or seen. On the cover is a drawing of this church that was drawn by Miss Nancy Dieter according to the description in Michael Gruber's Record of St. Daniel's Church.

ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

"Following Our Father's Footsteps"

THE HISTORY OF ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

At a time of unrest between the Mother country, England, and the Colonies, the Lutheran Congregation in Heidelberg Township, Berks County, Pennsylvania, named St. Daniel's Church, and locally known as "Corner Church" or "Eck Kirch", was founded about 1750. The church building is situated in the northern corner of a crossroads, about a mile northward of Robesonia, on the top of an irregular ridge which is 500 feet above the sea level. This ridge extends in a winding or zig-zag course from Womelsdorf eastward to Spring Creek and skirts the northern side of the depression of land through which runs Route 422, the longest slope of the ridge toward the pike being about a mile. The church is several feet lower than and midway between the eastern and western limits of the church land, which limits are among the highest of the ridge.

At the time of the founding of the church, Berks County had not been organized and Heidelberg, which included the later subdivisions of North and Lower Heidelberg and which had no all around definite boundaries, was a part of Lancaster County.

The church received the name Saint Daniel at the laying of the corner-stone of the second building in 1814. The designation "Corner" or "Eck" is said to have originated not so much from the location of the building as from the fact that the corners of a number of farms center about the place.

On May 30, 1751, the congregation came in possession of three adjoining tracts of land: One-half acre from John Artz; one-half acre from Michael Schauer (Shower); and three-fourths from Abraham Lauck.

This land was received in trust for the congregation by John Beyer and Frederick Weiser, five (5) shillings being paid for each tract, the payments being, no doubt, required to render the transactions valid. The deeds for these tracts were acknowledged June 8, 1751, before Conrad Weiser, one of the Justices of the Peace of Lancaster County, who on December 10, 1751, gave a receipt in full for three pounds for executing six deeds in connection with the church land.

On May 24, 1751, a contract was made by John Beyer and Michael Schauer, members of the congregation, with Andrew Dietz and John Michael Dietz, masons of Lancaster County, for the mason work of the first church building, the walls thereof to have the following dimensions: Length of church, 40 feet; width of church, 36 feet; height, 20 feet. One shilling 6 pence, Pennsylvania currency was to be paid for each perch of masonry, and double pay allowed for the foundation. Andrew Rieger and John Ermendraudt were the witnesses to this contract. The first church building was, therefore a stone structure and not a wooden or log building as has commonly been supposed.

A simple agreement was also made on June 29, 1751, by the same two church members, with Frederick Kobel, who was to make 2 door frames, 8 window frames, and a gallery of two pews deep on the long side of the church and of three pews deep on the short side; also to erect a stairway, set the purlins for the rafters and construct a vestibule on the outside of the door. For this work he was to receive 11 pounds Pennsylvania currency (Pennsylvania currency was $3.00 to the pound). A receipt dated October 13, 1753, shows that Frederick Kobel received 10 pounds Pennsylvania currency, from John Beyer and Michael Schauer for carpenter work done at the church in Heidelberg Township.

The corner-stone of this, the first building was laid in 1751, and the building was probably completed in 1754.

The second building, which is also the present edifice, is a stone structure 52 feet long and 46 feet wide, and was built during 1814 to 1817, the corner-stone having been laid May, 1814, on which occasion the church received the name Saint Daniel. The building committee consisted of 8 members, the names being as follows: Heinrich Bennetsch, Heinrich Gruber, George Gruber, Johannis Ernst, Peter Spang, Johannis Palm, Wilhelm Roether, and Johnathan Minnig.

THE HISTORY OF ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

In 1849 this edifice was remodeled at an expense of $1,342.59, the building committee for the purpose having been John L. Fisher, David Wenrich and David Kehl.

Extensive repairs to the building were also made in 1883, and the dedicatory services thereof were held on November 25, 1883.

Until August 5, 1876, the Lutherans had entire control of the church; but on that date "permission was given to a Reformed Congregation, by the St. Daniel's Lutheran Congregation of Heidelberg Township, in consideration of the sum of one dollar per annum to have a right to worship and hold religious services in the building the same as the Lutheran Congregation now does."

The Reformed held the first services in the church on December 25, 1876, and continued to worship therein for 28 years; but having erected a fine and suitable house of worship of their own in Robesonia, their last services in St. Daniel's Church occurred on February 19, 1905, since which time the church is again entirely Lutheran. Rev. Thomas Calvin Leinbach, of Womelsdorf, was the Reformed pastor during that time, assisted during the last two or three years of that period by his son, Rev. Edwin S. Leinbach.

In this connection it might be stated that the Reformed Congregation left the "Corner Church" not because of any rupture of friendly relations, but owing to a desire to have a church of their own, and at the same time more modern in construction and located in a town.

From the historical records some unique rules of the St. Daniel's Church were found. These rules were drawn up in 1875. The first rule showed evidence that our congregation was suffering, along with other rural congregations, with "Graveyard Complications". Another article was as follows: No one shall be buried on this ground that has taken his own life. The third article was that no adult person shall be interred in the rows intended for the burial of children, and no children in the rows intended for adult persons.

Another article had to do with the conduct of the members of the congregation: The consistory or church officers shall be empowered to keep order in the church and upon the ground as they deem proper.

The Lutheran ministers who, from 1750 to the present time, have served St. Daniel's Church are as follows:

Rev. John Nicholas Kurtz, from 1750 to April, 1770, a period of about 20 years.

Rev. Christopher Emanuel Schulze, from 1771 to March, 1809, about 38 years.

Rev. Daniel Ulrich, from 1811 to September 25, 1853, a period of fully 42 years.

Rev. Thomas Theophilus Jaeger, from Nov. 12, 1853, to Jan. 17, 1864, a period of 10 years.

Rev. Henry Seipel Miller, from January to July, 1864, a period of one-half year.

Rev. Aaron Finfrock, from 1864 to 1891, about 27½ years.

Rev. William Wilberforce Kramlich, from January, 1892 to October, 27, 1901, about 10 years.

Rev. Oscar Erwin Pflueger, from November, 1902 to 1914, a period of 12 years.

Rev. Harvey Kidd from 1914 to 1926, a period of 12 years.

Rev. Harry P. Miller from 1926 to 1940, a period of 14 years.

Rev. E. L. Leisey from 1940 to the present time.

Rev. E. L. Leisey

Elmer L. Leisey, the son of Abram W. and Annie R. Leisey, was born in Denver on June 19, 1892. He was graduated from the Allentown Preparatory School, Muhlenberg College and the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Mt. Airy. He also took graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania. Rev. Leisey was married to Clara V. Bard on June 26, 1917. His first charge was at Numidia, followed by New Holland, Danville and the Womelsdorf Parish, which is at the present time the Robesonia Parish. Pastor Leisey was installed in St. Daniel's Church by the Rev. E. P. Platteicher, President of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, and Rev. M. L. Wuchter, President of the Reading Conference, on the 28th of April. On June 20, 1943, the Robesonia Parish became a parish of two churches instead of four, with Rev. E. L. Leisey as the pastor.

THE HISTORY OF ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

Of these 11 pastors, Revs. Kurtz and Schulze were born in Germany. Rev. Finck in Maryland, and the other seven in Pennsylvania.

For a full century, from its founding in 1750 to the year 1851, when Rev. Ulrich gave up Christ Lutheran Church above Stouchsburg and all but two of the connected congregations, St. Daniel's Church belonged to Tulpehocken Charge with Christ Church as the head congregation. The congregations connected with Christ and St. Daniel's (some during the whole of that period, others during only a part of it) were Reed's, Northkill (Bernville), Rehrersburg, Little Tulpehocken, Womelsdorf, Schaeferstown (Lebanon Co.), Wenrich's (Linglestown), Myerstown, Newmanstown, and probably several smaller ones.

Then for two years until September 25, 1853, the date on which Rev. Ulrich preached his farewell sermon there, St. Daniel's Church was apparently an independent congregation served by Rev. Ulrich, who also preached at Newmanstown during that time.

During Rev. T. T. Jaeger's pastorate of 10 years, the names and number of the connected congregations appear to be continually shifting, so that scarcely a year passed without some changes. The congregations connected with St. Daniel's at different times during that period were Womelsdorf, Rehrersburg, Millersburg, Myers-town, Sinking Spring, North Heidelberg, Bern, Reed's, Belleman's, Alsace and St. Michael's.

For the half year in which Rev. Henry S. Miller served St. Daniel's Church, there were connected with it Geigertown and Forest (Plow).

During the first year of Rev. Finck's pastorate, St. Daniel's had connected with it Geigertown, Kissinger's and Bern. In 1865, Womelsdorf, Reed's, Strausstown, and Host were added, and Geigertown dropped. A few years afterward Bern and Kissinger's were dropped, and in 1887 Reed's was also given up.

From 1887, the following four congregations have constituted one charge, known as the Womelsdorf Parish: Zion's (Womelsdorf), St. Daniel's, St. John's (Host), and Zion's (Strausstown, known as Blue Mountain Church).

In the year 1913, the Strausstown church left the Womelsdorf Parish. This was done through the efforts of the Reading Conference. The object of this was to reduce the number of congregations in the various parishes so as to increase the number of services on Sundays as well as enable the pastors to attend to their work more efficiently.

In the year 1917, a fourth church was added to the Womelsdorf Parish, Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, located in Robesonia. This church grew out of a few members of St. Daniel's Church and residents of Robesonia, who felt that an organization should be in Robesonia. The first movers in this direction were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Keiser, members of Christ Church in Stouchsburg, who for many years were interested in the Lutheran development in Robesonia and who might be called the Grand Old People of the congregation. They were seconded by Mrs. Frank Bair, of Palm Church of Palmyra, who for many years was a faithful worker and secretary of the Willing Workers, an incorporated body working for the interests of Lutheranism in Robesonia.

In the year 1943, the new Robesonia Parish was formed, consisting of St. Daniel's Church and Trinity Church. The Pastor for this Parish is Rev. E. L. Leisey. The reason for this split was to reduce the number of congregations in the Parish. After this had taken place, both St. Daniel's and Trinity had church services every Sunday.

The first year after this split had taken place, the income had doubled and the apportionments were paid in full. This marked the beginning of an era of progress for St. Daniel's. More and greater activities began to take place.

In the year 1941 the Reading Fair stand was purchased. The income derived from this project helped to build the new Christian Education Building.

The pipe organ of the church was bought April 30, 1862, for $850, from Joel Kantner of Penn Township, Berks County, and was rebuilt in August, 1906, by E. E. Palm of Mt. Penn at a cost of $370.

At the time the organ was purchased, Samuel Werner was leader in church music, or "Vorsinger"; but it seems that he did not undertake to play the organ, and consequently Benjamin Blatt and John S. Henry were appointed his assistants, who presided at the organ during church services. They served in that capacity from 1862 to 1886, when John W. Ernst became organist (1866-1869).

THE HISTORY OF ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

Then following successively David Knoll (1869-1877) Reuben T. Landis (1877-1882), John S. Henry (1882-1886), Benjamin Z. Anderson (1886-1897), John C. Konkel (1897-1903), Morgan Klopp (1903-1908), Eugene Klopp, Homer Landis, Mr. Angstadt, Kenneth Christman, Lester Coleman, and the present organist, Evelyn Stautler.

As to the leaders in singing, known as "Vorsinger", very little has been found in connection with the early history of St. Daniel's Church. It is quite likely that Rev. J. N. Kurtz, who is said to have instructed his congregation in singing, led the church music during his pastorate. Such appears also to have partly been the case with other pastors.

The schoolmaster, who taught the church school connected with a congregation, generally served in the capacity of "Vorsinger".

It is known that Andrew Fleischer served as schoolmaster about 1812, and that Phillip A. Guth promised to serve as "Vorsinger" on September 12, 1813. But it is only for the last 80 odd years that a continuous record of the "Vorsinger" has been found, which is as follows: Samuel Saltzer (1824-31), Jonathan Bertram (1831-40), Samuel Werner (1840-66), and the organists mentioned above.

The majority of the early Lutheran churches had their parochial or church schools. These schools were generally held in what was known as the Schoolhouse belonging to the respective congregation, which building served in many instances as the residence of the schoolmaster. Nothing definite has been found, however, to indicate whether or not St. Daniel's Church during its early existence had a school of this kind. Certain papers show the existence of a schoolhouse belonging to the church as early as 1793, and it appears that a schoolhouse was in course of construction during 1810-13. This latter building, or at least part of it, was, no doubt, the structure that was torn down to make place for the present dwelling house on the church property.

In the old church record is recorded a statement relating to a certain "school-house", showing the names of 47 contributors and the respective amounts subscribed. This statement is not dated but from certain names contained therein, the contributions appear to have been made between 1758 and 1762. It is, however, supposed that the schoolhouse referred to was that connected with Christ Lutheran Church above Stouchsburg, as that church was the principal one of the connected congregations at that time.

From a beginning of a few members, shown as 16 male members in 1753, the congregation of St. Daniel's Church has increased to almost 727 of both sexes; and the dozen surnames of the earliest members have multiplied to about 15 dozen. Those first dozen surnames are still borne by persons living in the county, but only half of them appear among the names of the present members of the church.

Possibly three-fourths of the membership can trace in their veins the blood of persons who were members of that church prior to the Revolutionary War; and one-half of those who belong to the church today are included under three dozen surnames, all of which were common to Heidelberg, Tulpehocken, or Bern 125 years ago, viz.: Bechtel, Bender, Bricker, Brossman, Brown, Engel, Ernst, Fidler, Fisher, Gerhart, Grater, Gruber, Hassler, Himmelberger, Huber (or Hoover), Koch, Leininger, Lengel, Long, Machmer, Madernes, Miller, Mountz, Moyer, Palm, Pott (or Putt), Schaeffer, Smith, Snyder, Spatz, Strauss, Stump, Wagner, Wolf, and Wenrich.

THE HISTORY OF ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

The following additional 36 surnames comprising, however, scarcely 100 of the present church members, were equally well known to Heidelberg, Tulpehocken and Bern four generations ago: Baer, Bergman, Blatt, Boyer, Deppen, Field, Frantz, Freeman, Gaul, Groh, Hartman, Horn, Kauffman, Keller, Kintzer, Klopp, Lamm, Ney, Noll (or Knoll), Nonnemacher, Riegel, Schmehl, Sherman, Sohl, Spangler, Speicher, Spohn, Staudt, Strunk, Texter, Umbenhauer, Wertz, Yoder, Yoh, Zechman, and Zeller. A number of these names refer only to female members.

Regular Lutheran services are held in St. Daniel's Church every Sunday, however in the beginning services were held every two weeks, or every other Sunday; and such had been the practice within the memory of the oldest members. All services had been conducted in the German language until the beginning of the Twentieth Century, when English language was introduced. At one time one service was held in English and one in German.

One of the outstanding events in the history of St. Daniel's Church was the celebration of its 175th Anniversary, the observance of which was held all day Sunday, October 3, 1926. At this chief service that morning Rev. E. P. Pfatteicher, D.D., President of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, preached the festival sermon. In the afternoon there were addresses by Rev. W. O. Laub, President of the Reading Conference, and Mr. E. D. Moyer, a son of the congregation, now residing at Franklin, Pa., and greetings by others, among whom were Rev. P. C. Croll and Rev. E. S. Leinbach. An added feature of this service was singing by the Moyer Brothers of Palmyra. At the evening devotions the congregation had the pleasure of listening to another son in the person of Rev. John C. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Nativity, Philadelphia.

The organization of the Sunday School was not an easy task. The first attempt in 1913 was not a success. This was due to the poor means of transportation in those years. The Sunday School was organized in the Summer, but when Winter came and brought along the bad weather, the Sunday School suffered in attendance. Finally the school was abandoned.

The year 1920 brought forth younger blood and another attempt was made to start a Sunday School. The Pastor at the time was Rev. H. S. Kidd, who was not very enthusiastic about the idea. Rev. Kidd told the Sunday School pioneers that they had to have 50 members at the first meeting. The three members who undertook the job of going house to house to get the 50 members were Calvin Brown, Edgar Lutz and Paul Katzman. It was not an easy job as they found out. They were not easily discouraged and kept on plugging till July 4, 1920 the first meeting was held at the "Eck Kirche" with 54 members attending.

One of the humorous incidents of this organizing was that in order to get the necessary amount the committee in charge of recruiting, recruited the son of a local blacksmith who lived in Philadelphia at the time but was visiting with his father at the time. The second Sunday there were 73 members attending the Sunday School. The second last Sunday in July the Sunday School held its first picnic to raise funds. The picnic was held at the church and over $100.00 was raised. The money was used to buy the first hymnals, Sunday School supplies and coal for the church. In the year 1922 the electric lights were installed by the Sunday School to replace the oil lights. In the year 1923 the outside lights were purchased.

In the year 1951 the new Christian Education building was started. This building is to be built on the west side of the church. This building will be used for the Christian education of the younger members.
